

ANEGRE

Key concept

Modern craft that combines the latest technologies and proven methods.

We have been making custom-made furniture for over a decade. Our company is built upon the knowledge and skills of high-class specialists and artisans who treat their work not only as a responsibility but mostly as a passion.

At Anegre, our model to follow is versatility and quality. We are convinced that thanks to these qualities, the result of our work is as it should be. An awareness of constantly changing needs – both functional and aesthetic – allows us to offer not only great furniture but also comfort throughout the entire process of the project's development. Openness and curiosity of the new is our everyday life, which inspires us to develop every single day.

Each of our designs is unique and every project we undertake is an extraordinary one. We are fully convinced that a personalised approach is the foundation of not only good products but also relationships that we try to build with customers with the same utmost care that we take for the production process of our furniture.

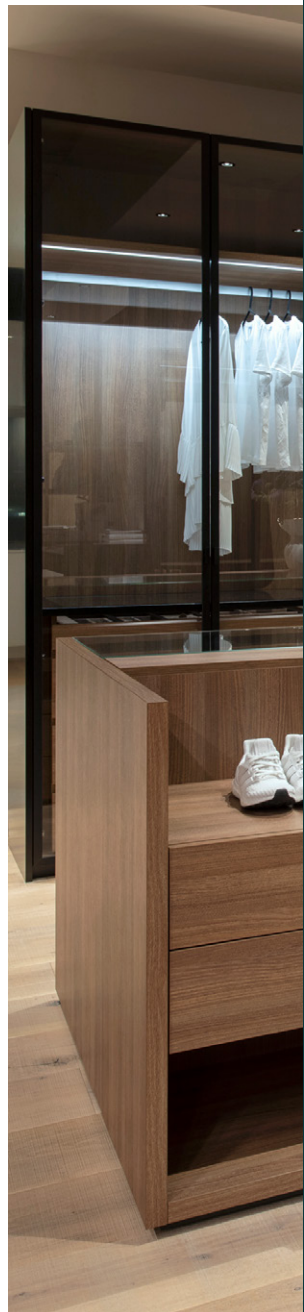

What we offer

Endless possibilities

The core of our offer is the comprehensive completion of custom-made furniture. From the highest quality built-in cabinets, wardrobes, kitchen and bathroom furniture to entire residential, office, public or hotel interiors. At Anegre, we respond to the needs of individual clients, business clients and architects.

Our expertise can be precisely measured. We have completed a significant number of orders – even the most demanding and complex ones. This means customer satisfaction. Regardless of whether the order concerns furniture for a house, boutique, office or a multi-stage development project, we always take measurements for each of them with identical accuracy, try to meet expectations and earn the trust of our clients.

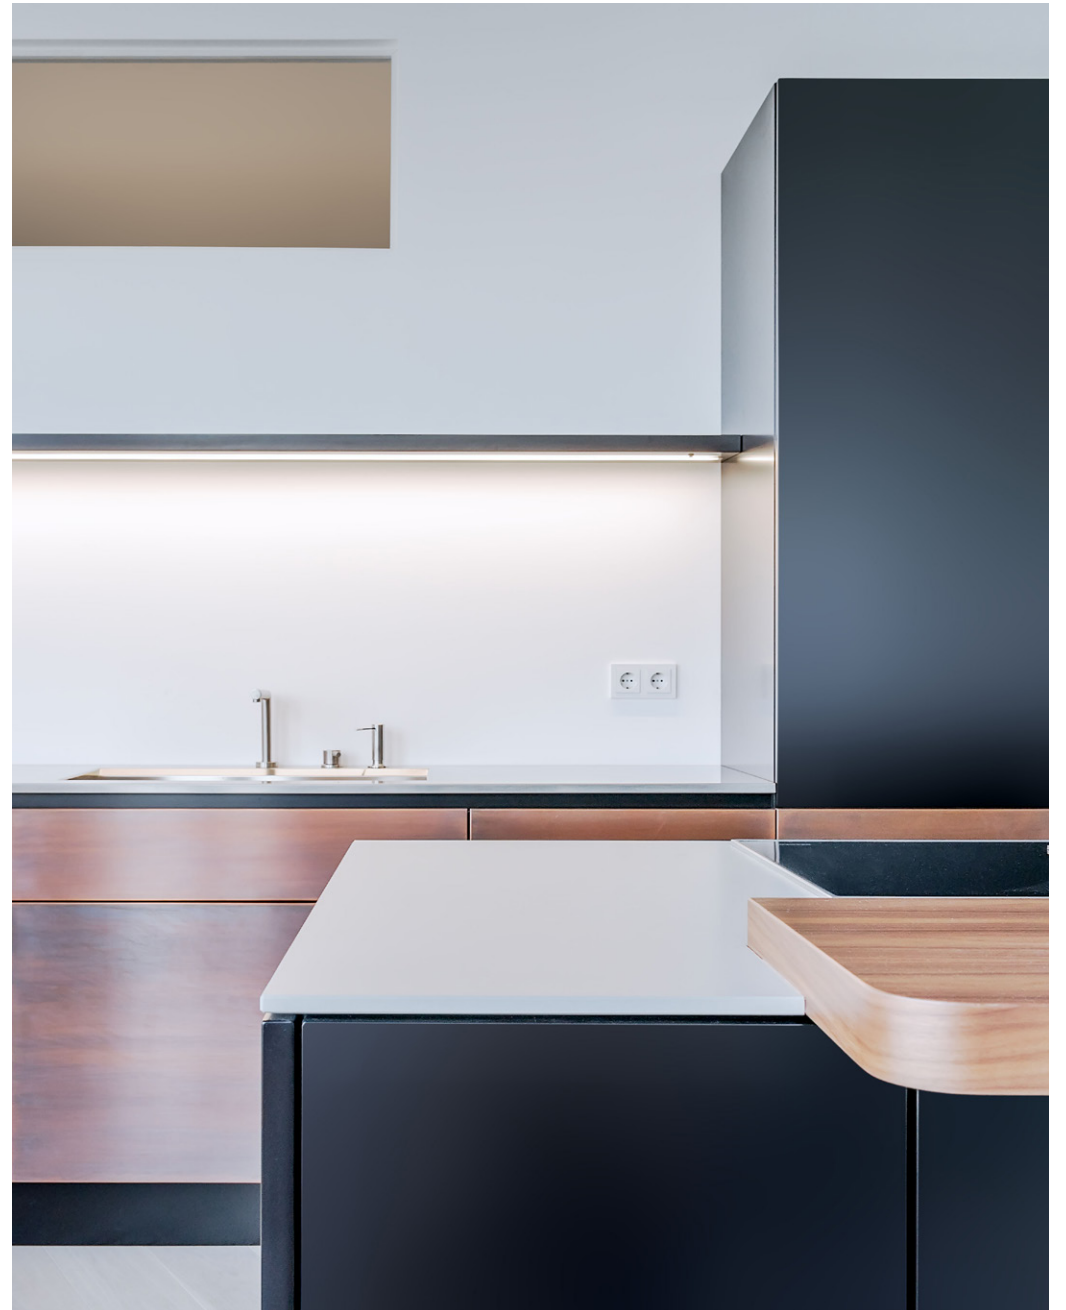

Anegre to Business

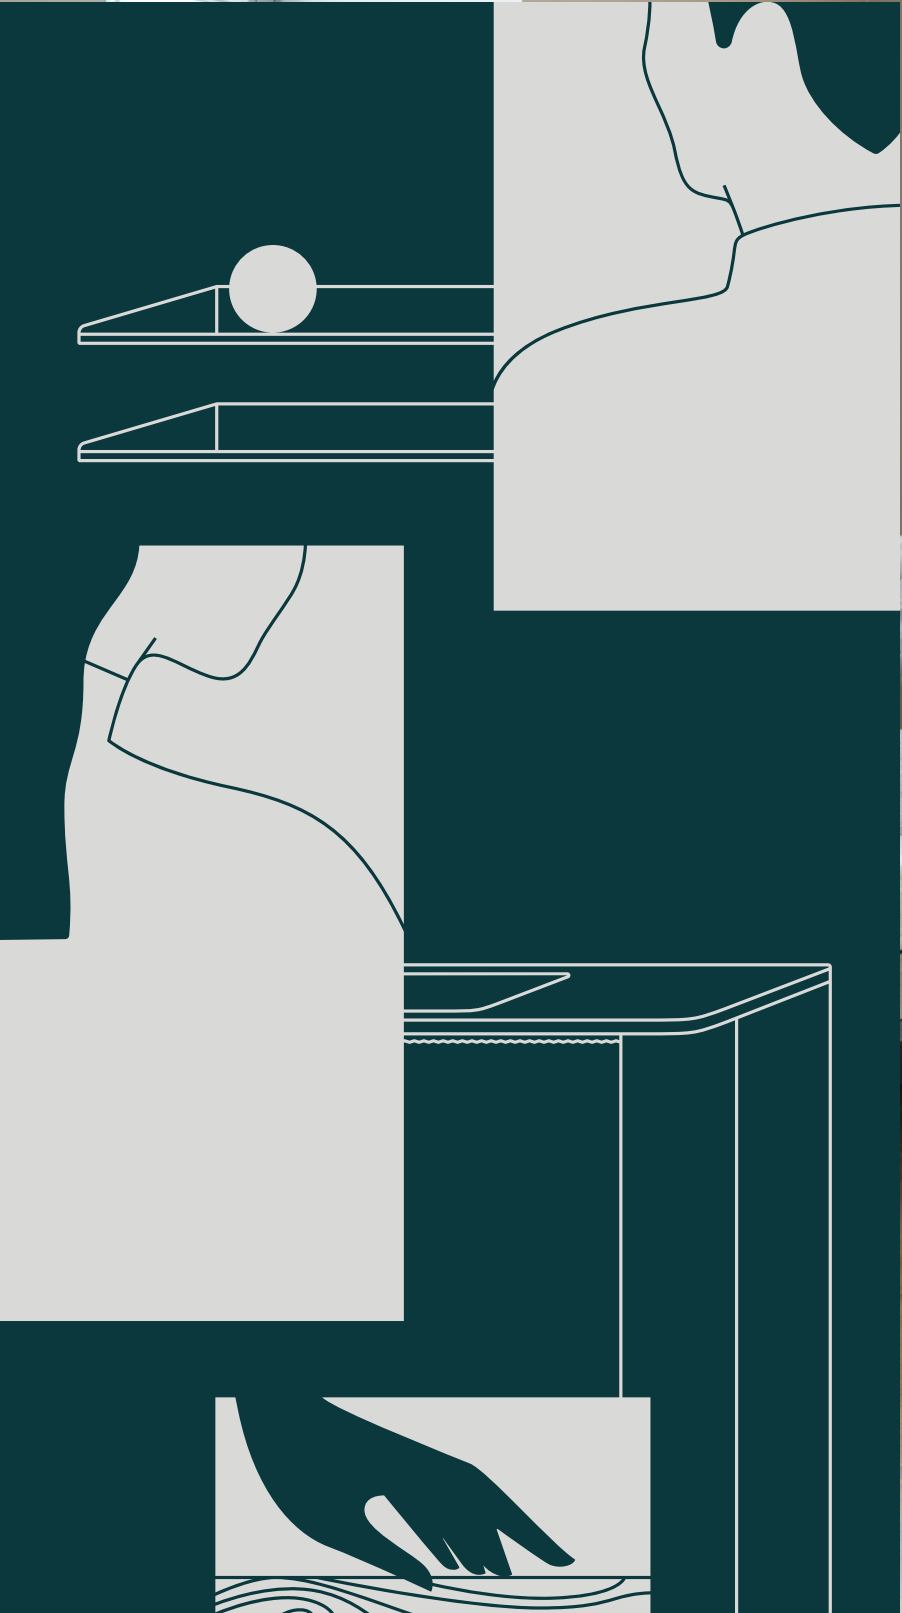

Anegre to Business is our special programme dedicated to business customers. We design and make furniture for commerce, hotels, restaurants and real estate. We believe that exceptional projects deserve the best attention and only the best quality can capture the adequate framework of the ideas and needs of our customers, for whom well-made furniture is not only necessary to perform a work tool or a neat set design, but is also one of the emblems of their brand. That is why we approach each design in a very individual and flexible way. Together with our clients, we are looking for the most suitable solution for them, bearing in mind the nature and scale of the project undertaken. The individual sizing is usually the perfect one, which is why it is the starting point for us every time.

At Anegre, the service and product are complementary. Brand experience is just one thing. By being aware of the contemporary needs and expectations of our clients, we are guided by strictly defined values which provide unique solutions in the furniture industry.
